

Arts

From Page 3

Tampa jewelry artist Meredith Haws back from Italy, where she found inspiration for creating new designs almost everywhere.

See the results of all that inspiration at the seventh annual Art of Adornment exhibit and sale from noon to 5 p.m. today at the gallery, 442 W. Grand Central Ave., next to Mise En Place restaurant.

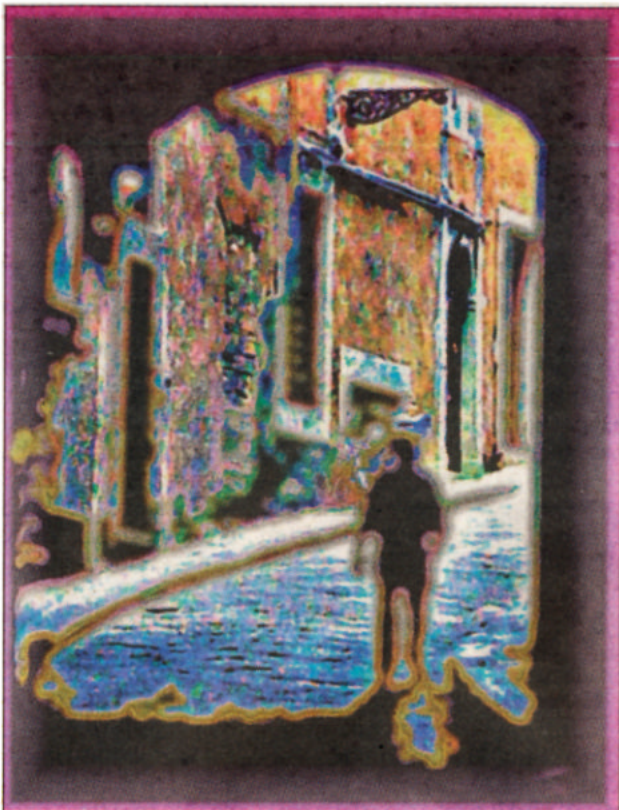

For details, call the gallery at (813) 250-1511.

Have an 'artsy' Halloween

Although no specific gallery exhibits with a Halloween theme are on the horizon, even regular exhibits sometimes can cast an eerie spell when viewed from the right perspective.

Check out the current exhibit at Clayton Galleries.

Though not frightening, some of Roberta Schofield's manipulated photographs can inspire a sense of foreboding, an edge of disquiet. And really, isn't that what we all want on Halloween?

CLAYTON GALLERIES

Given a different perspective, art can have a spooky aspect, such as this piece by Roberta Schofield.

Clayton Galleries is at 4105 S. MacDill Ave. Call (813) 831-3753 for hours and information.

ehammer@tampatrib.com